Operation Stay Afloat 2008 — Risks, Roles, and Responsibilities

This is the third "Operation Stay Afloat" Conference conducted jointly by the Indiana Department of Natural Resources and the Indiana Department of Homeland Security. The conference is a prime opportunity to join with other community officials, emergency managers, and others interested in current pertinent information regarding the natural hazards faced by Indiana communities.

The goal of this conference is to provide current information regarding some of the risks, roles, and responsibilities associated with natural hazards in Indiana, applicable program requirements, and mitigation opportunities.

The target audience for this event is local floodplain administrators, building officials, emergency managers, surveyors, regional planning groups, river basin commissions, disaster volunteer groups, community CEOs, and State Legislators.

Registration

No registration fees are being charged for this conference. However, participants are responsible for their own lunch and any parking expenses. Please pre-register for the conference by contacting Anita Nance, Floodplain Management Section of the DNR Division of Water by one of the following methods:

- phone at 317-234-1110
- e-mail at anance@dnr.in.gov
- fax at 317-233-4579 (fax this form)

Please pre-register by March 6, 2008.
